Explanation:

The image clearly depicts three individuals engaged in a physical interaction that suggests violence or an intervention to prevent it. One person is on the ground. Another is positioned over them, and a third person is actively and forcefully restraining the second individual by pulling their arm. The strained expression of the person doing the restraining, combined with the forceful grips and postures, indicates an ongoing or immediately preceding physical struggle. There are no visible weapons, but the interaction itself constitutes a form of physical violence or a strong indication of an impending or active physical attack.
